

AWAHS Confidentiality and Privacy Statement

Albury Wodonga Aboriginal Health Service is committed to protecting the privacy and confidentiality of our clients and patients and provides quality services in which information is collected, stored, used and disclosed in an appropriate manner complying with both legislative requirements and ethical obligations.

The privacy of personal information is defined by legislation (Privacy Act 1988) and at all times, AWAHS acts in accordance with these legal requirements.

If you would like to view and read the AWAHS Confidentiality and Privacy Policy please speak with an AWAHS Staff Member

